The MOOC on SDG 6: round 2

On 6 October, SIWI will release the second round of the MOOC (massive open online course) on water, in collaboration with the UN's SDG Academy. The title of the course is "Water: addressing the global crisis".

The MOOC was filmed during last World Water Week taking advantage of the leading experts gathered in Stockholm. It explains the linkages between water, environment, and societal development, with deep dives into issues like the growing water uncertainty and deteriorating water quality. The free course aims to improve the understanding of how water influences our lives and livelihoods to build the competence needed to navigate the "new normal".

If you want to read more about the MOOC, see a trailer, watch comments from the experts, and enrol you are most welcome to visit: <http://www.siwi.org/watercourse/>

As partners in the water knowledge community we would like to ask for your help in spreading this course to as many potential viewers and students as possible. Please contact coms@siwi.org for more information.

World Water Week on demand

Want to get the most out of your Week? We'll be bringing you live and on-demand sessions showcasing some of the best the Week has to offer. Get live updates and ask your questions using #WWWeek and #Live. See the schedule at www.worldwaterweek.org/live or in the World Water Week App.

INNOQUA: Sustainable sanitation with nature-based solutions that leaves no-one behind

Room: M2

Convenors: BORDA, INCD ECOIND, NUI Galway, Nobatek/Inef4 and Suez Advanced Solutions (UK) Ltd

Sustainable sanitation for today's rapidly growing urban populations does not automatically mean centralised wastewater treatment. Nature-based solutions can provide robust, cost-effective treatment as well as allowing for safe water re-use. This showcase will demonstrate how the INNOQUA suite of solutions is meeting both urban and rural sanitation goals.
